Approximately at 11:45, the parade will again form up, facing east in front of the theatre and proceed to the Cenotaph, where a short impressive service will be held; also firing party and laying of wreaths.

On reformation of the parade, they will march west to B.E.S.L. and disperse.

In the B.E.S.L. Club Room, a luncheon will be provided and speakers will address the membership.

This is one day when all citizens should turn out in respect of those, living or dead, who have made a great sacrifice in order for all of us to live our way of life and in the standards we desire.

"Assault" Victim Dies; Manslaughter Charged

Anthony Paul Lesson, 31, of 351 11th Ave. W., died in the General hospital at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday, 10 days after he had allegedly been assaulted on 17th Avenue near 4th Street East.

Edward Moodie, 31, bar room waiter of 319 4th Ave. E., will be charged with manslaughter in city police court Thursday morning in connection with Lesson's death. Inspector of Detectives Reg. Clements announced Wednesday night.

The waiter was taken into police custody last Sunday night by detectives J. V. Smith and H. Timms. The assault charge laid against Moodie at that time will be dropped when he is charged with manslaughter. Detectives Smith and Timms will lay the new charge.

Lesson is believed to have died of intercranial hemorrhage and a fractured skull. He was unconscious most of the time he was in hospital. An inquest is expected to be held soon to inquire into his death.

Police Constables W. Werth and W. Thompson were called to the corner of 17th Avenue and 4th Street East about 1 a.m. October 26 and found Lesson lying unconscious on the curb there. Beside him were Moodie and a Calgary woman, they said.

Original investigations showed that the man had been on a drinking party and fell backward onto the sidewalk while dancing around and singing. However, further inquiries were made by police which did not substantiate the first reports.

Police were said to have been suspicious of marked bruising on Lesson's face.

Born in Hillcrest, Mr. Lesson attended school there and was a member of St. Theresa Roman Catholic church. He enlisted in 1940 with the Canadian army in Calgary and served as a sergeant-instructor at various military camps across the Dominion. He received his discharge in Calgary and at the time of his death was employed at the Noble hotel.

Mr. Lesson was a member of the Hotel Employees' Union and the Canadian Legion.

Surviving are his widow, Bernice, Calgary; one daughter, Beverly, Calgary; his father, Anton, Hillcrest; one brother, Steve, Bellevue; a sister, Margaret, Langruth, Man. His mother died 14 years ago at Hillcrest. — Calgary Albertian.

The 21st annual Christmas Seal sale will be under way in Alberta next week. 180,000 homes in the province will receive letters containing two sheets of bright, colorful Christmas Seals, the seals that save lives.

R. W. Roscoe, president of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, said today that this year's appeal is the greatest yet, and the need for $125,000, this year's objective is greater than ever.

Mr. Roscoe said, "As in the war beginning their grapple soon as the shadows began to fall, expressing shrills in innocent mischief and in a shy manner, resembling somewhat the mystic movements of the Irish Leprechauns."

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Fortier were fettered when a large number of friends gathered in the Masonic hall to do them honor on Wednesday evening, October 29, on the eve of their leaving to make their home in Calgary. Masquerade Dance At Playgrounds Grand Success

Blairmore Dancers Win Three Out Of Four Prizes; Rated Best Of Season

Friday, October 31st, Halloween evening, proved a big night for Blairmore folk as three out of the four prize winning costumes were to be found donned by Blairmortes.

Yes! the Masquerade Ball at the Turtle Mountain Playgrounds Dance Hall proved a huge success, was the answer many a sorry "Friday-night-stayer-in" received to his question of "how was it?" Awe-eyed listeners heard of the many gay, witty, original and artistically designed costumes worn at the masquerade.

Approximately 9:30 or thereabouts, the crowd of costumed fun-makers commenced to gather. As the whippersnappers grew into yells, giggles into a drowning hum of laughs and surprised hells as friends found each other beneath weird outer garments it wasn't surprising to see devils dancing with angels, a caveman (yielding a great club) with a queen, an Indian Chief with an Hawaiian hula-hula girl, a ghost with Queen Victoria, a pirate dancing with a cigarette girl, a tramp talking to a Lady of the Courts, or a merchant sailor with a Mexican hat dancer.

Some were seen sword dancing, waltzing, jitterbugging, two stepping, minuetting, dancing polkas, dancing in bare feet (caveman style), barn dancing and some very original steps, too. After everyone had a fair idea of whom they were dancing with, whether the same or opposite sex, and seeing as how it was nearing midnight, the "Grand March" was staged. When everyone was in, on, it and had some place or other in the lineup, they were led around and then formed a circle. The Master of Ceremonies, namely Mr. Jack Kerr, dressed as a rancher, called the costume winners out into the centre of the circle and they were as follows:

—The Best Dressed Lady, Mrs. (Dot) Morgan, of Blairmore, dressed as the "Queen of Hearts".

The Best Dressed Gent, Mr. Roy Derome, of Blairmore, dressed as an "Indian Chief".

The Most Original costume was donned by Mr. Don Thornton, of Blairmore, dressed as "Departed Spirits" — with sheets and an empty bottle marked as such.

Then for the Best Comic costume — Mr. Bill Harper, of Frank, took the prize dressed as a "Cave Man" with no shoes and a big wooden club plus a fur for a costume, he surely looked a spectacle.

The judges were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Crockett of Calgary. Each of the winners were awarded $5.00 in dance tickets which will help them to have many a gay time in the near future.

After the prizes were awarded the time came for the "de-masking" operation and off came all the masks. One of the queerest things to be seen was one person dressed as half man and half woman dancing around and around the floor. (from Blairmore we understand).

A good time was had by all and the only regrets were put in by the non-attendees.

MILK SUPPLY IN PASS CRITICAL

Milk consumers in the Pass towns fail to realize how serious the milk situation is at the present time. A hint was given last week when some towns were missed, in turn, by the Pass dairy who sought to spread the available milk over as large a territory as possible.

It was revealed by superintendent Joe Fauville, of the Pass Dairy that six Pass milk producers have gone out of business since the milk enquiry of November, 1946. De Groot and McGillivray, of Coleman; Rysien, of Blairmore; Yuris and Bogush, of Bellevue, and Shultz, of Burnis, have all called it quits, thus leaving approximately twelve Pass producers still in business. It was also revealed that the herds previously owned by those going out of business had been sold to producers residing outside of the Pass, thus the produce from approximately 100 cattle had been lost to the Pass Dairy.

Last week Mr. Fauville and the provincial milk inspector travelled over a wide area of the southern part of the province in a vain attempt to secure new milk supplies.

Here is a chart showing consumption, production from Pass shippers, and the volume of milk being brought into the Pass. (figures in pounds):

Total Sales for September, 1947	147,276
Total Sales for October, 1947	149,971
Total Milk Purchased from Pass Shippers	297,247
Sept. Milk Purchased from Pass Shippers	107,107
Oct. Milk Purchased from Pass Shippers	200,078
Total Milk Imported from outside sources, Sept.	207,185
Milk Imported from outside sources, Oct.	45,966
Total Milk Imported from outside sources, Oct.	50,079
Total Milk Imported from outside sources, Oct.	96,036

It will be noted that the chart reveals these facts: Colder weather is resulting in decreased milk production in the Pass, a decrease of better than 7,000 pounds in one month. The local decrease has caused imports to rise approximately 4,000 pounds, 96,036 pounds of milk had to be shipped in from Lethbridge and Calgary in two months, the latter city having to be approached when Lethbridge could not supply Pass demands.

Milk costs $4. per 100 pounds from Lethbridge and Calgary plus express charges. Milk to the Pass producer sells at $3.49 per 100 pounds delivered to the Pass Dairy warehouse.

In November, 1946, the provincial milk enquiry presided over by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, was held in Blairmore. At that time the Federal milk subsidy was about to be eliminated. The Federal subsidy was 55 cents per 100 pounds. The Board granted a 1 cent per quart raise which, in hard cash, meant 40 cents per 100 pounds. The elimination of the subsidy meant a net loss of 15 cents. The Pass Dairy stepped in and absorbed 8 cents and the producer took the 7 cent loss.

Hay, bran, shorts, etc., have all gone up since November. Hay sells at $26 per ton today. During the summer when the flour subsidy was taken off by Ottawa, Bran and Shorts jumped up an additional $10 per ton.

Rising costs make the Pass milk producer worse off now than before the 1-cent increase per quart was granted a year ago. Discount reigns among Pass producers who ask more for their product. The overhead at the Dairy has gone up, as practically all supplies have increased in cost. As a result application has been made to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners for a milk price increase in the Pass. The Board is scheduled to have sittings at Calgary, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat. Whether they sit in the Pass or send in an auditor is yet to be determined.

Enquiry from Kimberley, an area similar to the Pass, revealed that the price of a quart of milk was boosted to 20 cents on Oct. 25.

An increase of one cent per quart is being asked in the Pass area. Should this increase be granted it is understood the Pass shippers will be given an increase in price and the Pass Dairy employees will be given salary boosts.

Will Get Tax Refund For '42 With Interest

OTTAWA, Nov. 3 (CP) — The revenue department is launching a nationwide campaign to ensure the correct delivery of cheques for repayment of the 1942 refundable savings portion of income tax.

The refund is to be repaid with interest at two percent by next March 31. The savings portion for the 1943 and 1944 taxation years will be repaid by March 31, 1949, and March 31, 1950, respectively.

The department's campaign will be conducted through the medium of reply cards which are being distributed to all householders in Canada. They will also be available in the district income tax offices and post offices.

While correct address is available for most of the taxpayers entitled to repayment of 1942 refundable savings, a problem arises in the case of those no longer having to pay taxes, because of increased exemptions or change of status. Main difficulty in tracing the address of women who were single and taxable in 1942 but have married and moved to other addresses.

Repayment of the 1942 savings portion involves the preparation and mailing of about 1,200,000 cheques to individuals and corporations, amounting to approximately $85,000,000.

Preparation of repayment cheques already is well under way and "every effort" will be made by the taxation division to determine that all cheques are correctly mailed, a department statement said.

With the co-operation of those taxpayers entitled to repayment of the 1942 savings portion who should report changes of address or name, the tremendous task of preparing and mailing approximately 1,200,000 repayment cheques next March will be done satisfactorily.

Agriculture And Industry

THE POSSIBILITIES OF USING waste farm products for industrial purposes has for many years been a matter of interest to farmers and to scientists. Among the processes which have been developed are the distilling of industrial alcohol from wheat and other cereal grains; the manufacture of plastics from the protein in milk; and the extraction of oils from flax, sunflowers, and other plants, for the making of paints, varnishes and edible fats. There have been many other such developments, but although they may be very satisfactory technically, they are not always practical from the financial standpoint. While it is most desirable that waste or surplus agricultural products should be used, if at all possible, for industry, the cost of processing them must always be a highly important consideration.

New No Surplus Of Food Grains

In a recent article on this subject, Dr. R. K. Larmour, one of Canada's foremost agricultural scientists, has drawn attention to the fact that enthusiasm for the development of industrial uses for surplus or waste agricultural products, has at times, caused scientists and agriculturists to overlook the practical financial aspects of the processes. In discussing this matter in relation to Western Canada, Dr. Larmour said: "While it is fully realized that industries in the West are most desirable, it is also true that we shall be better off with none, rather than those which would have to fold up because they are not based on sound scientific and economic principles." At the present time, the world food shortage has cut down the problem of converting surplus grain crops to other uses, and it is now realized that if people are properly fed there will be no great surpluses such as accumulated during the last depression.

Scientists To Study Problems

There are, however, always waste products, which, could they be used in industry, would bring financial gain to the farmer, and also create employment. There are also certain crops, such as sunflowers, and flax, which the farmer might grow solely for use in industry. At the new Prairie Regional Laboratory of the National Research Council of Canada, now being completed at Saskatoon, such matters will be studied and no doubt new industrial uses for surpluses and waste farm products will, in time, be developed there. One problem which will be studied is of finding a new use for straw, much of which is now disposed of by burning. Sound industrial undertakings are unquestionably assets to any region, but the financial aspects should always receive careful and thorough consideration.

The eight main cemeteries visited included four in France, three in Holland and one in Belgium.

SUNFLOWER PRODUCTION

Production of sunflowers in Canada was almost entirely a wartime development and higher yields and greater ease in harvesting were made possible by improved varieties, such as the better strains of Monmonite and Sunrise. These are semi-dwarf types which can be harvested with the ordinary combine.

Canada Has New Variety Of Wheat

Insect-Resistant Type Available Commercially Next Year

The Ottawa Citizen says: By the development of Rescue, Canada's first insect-resistant wheat, Mr. A. W. Platt of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Swift Current has made possible more grain for the food markets and more money for the farmer.

This achievement is the latest of many that have opened successive chapters in the unfolding story of the west. As settlers streamed out upon the prairie half a century ago, they needed a spring wheat maturing early enough for the short growing season. Two Dominion scientists, William Saunders and his son Charles, crossed Red Fife, which had been brought from Scotland to Upper Canada, with other hardy varieties from Russia and northern India, producing the earlier-ripening Marquis. Canada became a bread-basket for the world.

As settlement spread northward, varieties of wheat were developed which ripened even more quickly, and that resisted rust and smut. But the coming of the combine caused wheat to be left longer in the field before being cut. Hatching in the stem, the wheat sawfly toppled the grain. The toughness of Rescue will discourage the greedy sawfly grub. Wheats that will offer more resistance to grasshoppers and to frost are the next objectives of cereals.

The new wheat will be available commercially next year. No cartels, trusts, combinations, or patents stand in the way. Scientists in the public service have given their country bonus of inestimable value.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

PRIDE

Pride, the most dangerous of all faults, proceeds from want of sense, or want of thought.—Bacon.

Pride is seldom delicate; it will please itself with very mean advantages.—Samuel Johnson.

Pride is to the character, like the attic to the house—the highest part, generally the most empty.—John Gay.

Pride is ignorance; those assume most who have the least wisdom or experience; and they steal from their neighbor, because they have little of their own.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Men are sometimes accused of pride merely because their accusers would be proud themselves if they were in their places.—Shenstone.

If a man has a right to be proud of anything, it is of a good action done as it ought to be, without any base interest lurking at the bottom of it.—Bacon.

ADVICE GIVEN TO ALBERTA MOTORISTS

EDMONTON.—Alberta's toll of highway injured could be reduced considerably if drivers observed the white centre line on the Edmonton-Calgary highway, Sgt. James Muir of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police said.

Many motorists were taking the white line as a wheel guide rather than staying over on their own side of the road. Consequently avoidable accidents were continuing to occur.

"If it can be impressed on motorists that they are not to crowd the white line, many bad accidents can be avoided," said Sgt. Muir. "Correct use of the line, which shows up well at night, could play an important part in cutting down Alberta's toll of highway injured."

L. P. P. Nominates

B. R. Swankey For

Pincher Creek - Crows' Nest Constituency

B. R. Swankey, Provincial Leader of the Labor-Progressive Party was unanimously selected as the party's candidate for the provincial constituency of Pincher Creek - Crows' Nest at a nominating convention held in Frank over the week end. It was announced today by party officials. Fifty delegates were in attendance. An election platform was adopted and plans laid for a vigorous campaign. Syd Thompson was appointed Constituency Organizer and Campaign Manager.

Included in the election platform were points providing for "the development of our natural resources for the benefit of the people and not to enrich a few; a provincial low-rental housing program; a publicly owned electric power system 'that can speedily bring electricity at low rates to all farm homes'; a province-wide hospitalization scheme; the province to assume the major portion of the cost of education and to take over from the municipalities the entire cost of social services 'so as to lighten the tax burden on the small property-owner'; and for labor the 40 hour week in all industries, a minimum wage of 75c an hour, 100% compensation and the establishment of a Dept. of Labor.

B. R. Swankey, in addressing the convention charged that the provincial government was squandering the natural resources of the province and condemned it for "anti-labor practices". He predicted that strip mining may yet make "deserted villages" out of Alberta's mining camps and called upon the government to ensure that any miner who is displaced by strip mining will be adequately provided for. Warning that a provincial election will be called not later than next summer, he appealed for "unity of all progressive groups to defeat reaction and elect a farmer-labor government". Resolutions, passed at the convention included demand that the Special Session of Parliament on December 8th restore price controls and subsidies on basic necessities; impose a 100% Excess Profits Tax; and raise the initial price of wheat to $1.75.

The Convention decided to ask Tim Buck, National Leader of the Party, to tour the Crows' Nest Pass when he visits Alberta in January.

More Facts About The Royal Wedding

When Princess Elizabeth says "I do" — the whole world will be able to hear her, for the ceremony is to be broadcast.

On November 20, at approximately 11:30 a.m. G.M.T., the marriage of Princess Elizabeth to Lieutenant Philip Mountbatten will be solemnized in Westminster Abbey.

The B.B.C. (British Broadcasting Corporation) will suspend all its home and overseas programs for two hours to cover the wedding, and will feature a vivid sound picture of the event with commentaries in seven languages. Twenty-one microphones installed throughout the Abbey will pick up every stage of the marriage service, including the bride and groom's responses and an address from the High Altar by the Archbishop of York.

Here are some of the questions which many people overseas have been asking about the wedding . . . with the answers.

Q. How does the Princess's wedding differ from an ordinary citizen's wedding?

A. The form of service will be precisely the same as that used for any other couple belonging to the Church of England, and the King will give his daughter away like any other father is the British Commonwealth. The only difference between a royal wedding and that of an ordinary citizen is that it is a proportionately bigger wedding and an historical occasion which will be attended by a number of people in an official capacity.

Q. Where is the marriage to be held, and will it be the same as other Royal Weddings?

A. Westminster Abbey, where there have been very few Royal Weddings since 1300; among these were the weddings of Princess Mary to Viscount Lascelles, the Duke and Duchess of York (now King and Queen) and the Duke and Duchess of Kent. The procedure will be much the same as for the other weddings, but the chief differences will be — because of current conditions — no extra seating accommodation in the Abbey — informal dress for the guests — no stands along the route.

Q. Who is marrying them?

A. The following Clergy will take part in the ceremony.

The Archbishop of Canterbury

Dean of Westminster

The Precentor, C. M. Armitage

The Archbishop of York

Only Clergy will take part in the actual ceremony, plus three Lay Officers attached to the Abbey, who have the right to attend. These are the High Steward, Lord Halifax — Former Ambassador to the United States — the High Bailiff, Mr. Willink and the Chapter Clerk, Mr. Hartwright.

The Dean of Westminster, the Very Reverend Allen C. Don, D.D., meets the Princess at the door of the Abbey and heads the procession to the Altar. The Dean will read the Commencement of the Service.

The Archbishop of Canterbury as Primate of the Church of England will marry Princess Elizabeth and Lieutenant Mountbatten, and the Archbishop of York will give the address. The Dean of Westminster will give the nuptial blessing.

Q. What form of Service will be used?

A. For the civil marriage, the vicar, that is the secular matrimony form of solemnization of 1549 in the Book of Common Prayer will be used. The United Kingdom.

Parliament did not accept the 1928 revision of the Prayer Book. The remainder of the Service will follow the form used at the marriage of the King and Queen in 1923 (Hyman and others).

Q. Will the Princess promise to obey?

A. The words of the Bride's Vow in the Book of Common Prayer include "to love, cherish and obey", and these are the words the Princess will use.

Q. Is the bridegroom a communicant of the Church of England?

A. Yes, he was recently received at a private ceremony as a member of the Church of England.

Q. Does the Government bear the cost of the wedding?

A. There will be no public expenditure connected with the wedding. The Church expenses will be paid by the bridegroom in the customary way, and the remainder will come from the King's Private Purse. The procession will involve nothing more than an ordinary State Procession, for which everything that is needed is at hand. No changes in Westminster Abbey or at Buckingham Palace are contemplated and no stands will be erected along the route.

Q. Will the new ration cuts affect the catering?

A. The Wedding Breakfast is expected to be on the scale of a small private buffet party for about 100 relatives and friends owing to the rationing and the new regulations limiting entertainment. It will be paid for by the King from his Private Purse.

Q. Will clothing coupons be used for the wedding outfit?

A. The Board of Trade has made a special allocation of coupons for the Princess's wedding dress and going-away outfit. She will have no trouseau.

Q. Who are the bridesmaids and how many will there be?

A. There will be eight bridesmaids and two pages. The bridesmaids will be Princess Margaret, Princess Alexandra of Kent, Lady Caroline Montagu-Douglas-Scott, Lady Mary Cambridge, Lady Elizabeth Lambart, The Hon. Pamela Mountbatten, The Hon. Margaret Elphinstone and Miss Diana Bowes-Lyon. The two pages will be Prince William of Gloucester and Prince Philip of Kent.

Q. What form of conveyance will be used?

A. The King and Princess will travel to Westminster Abbey in the Irish State Coach, and her Royal Highness the bride and the bridegroom will return to Buckingham Palace in the glass coach.

Q. What route will the procession take?

A. The route of the procession from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey will be via: The Mall, Admiralty Arch, Whitehall, Parliament Street, East and South sides of Parliament Square. The return journey will be on the same route. The whole route will be lined by contingents from the three services. The Household Cavalry will provide mounted escorts. There will be bands at Buckingham Palace, along the route, and outside Westminster Abbey.

Q. How many guests will there be? How are they chosen?

A. There will be about 2,000 guests. The Royal Family are inviting relatives and personal friends, and the remaining places will be allocated to leading figures in Britain and from the other countries of the Commonwealth and to representatives of other countries.

Q. What dress will they wear?

A. Ladies — morning dress and hats.

Gentlemen — morning dress, lounge suits or Service dress.

Q. Will the Princess's allowance be increased after her marriage?

A. A Select Committee of Members of the United Kingdom House of Commons drawn from all parties will be called by the Lord Chancellor to settle this. They are free to call in whomsoever they like for advice, and when the amount is settled it is put before the House of Commons and made an Act. This procedure is necessary because the Princess, as a woman, could not inherit the income derived from the Duchy of Cornwall, which in the case of a male Heir to the Throne is his rightful income. Since the late Prince of Wales (Edward VIII-Duke of Windsor) this money has been devoted to the Government's Civil List. It is, therefore, now for the Government to provide for the Heir to the Throne. The sum decided upon will be additional to the £6,000 (£24,000) annually which the Princess now receives.

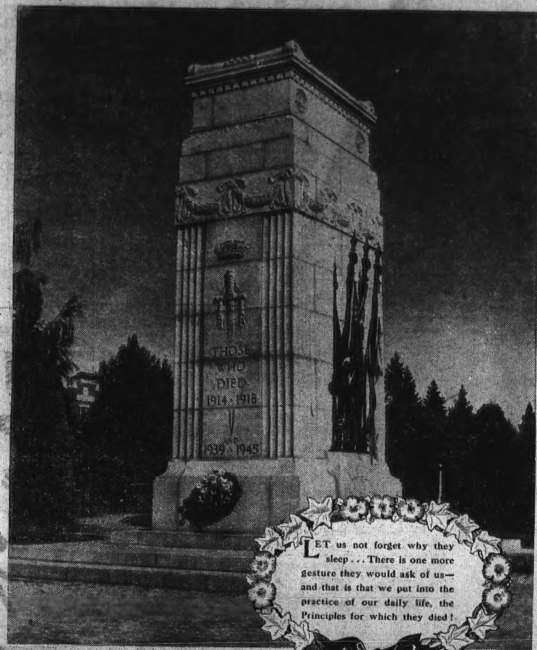

Q. Will Lieutenant Mountbatten receive an allowance from the State?

A. The Select Committee will decide if Lieutenant Mountbatten is to receive any allowance over and above that allocated to the Princess.

Q. Will the Princess or her husband receive any new titles?

A. This will not be known until the wedding day when the announcement will be made.

COUGAR HUNTERS BRING HOME THE DOLLARS—Cougar hunt meant $50 to these Vancouver Island hunters, Edwin Banner, (left), and Anthony Sullivan of Victoria, B.C., who shot the mother and her three cubs, displayed here on their car. They will collect bounty of $20 a head for each of the dangerous beasts.

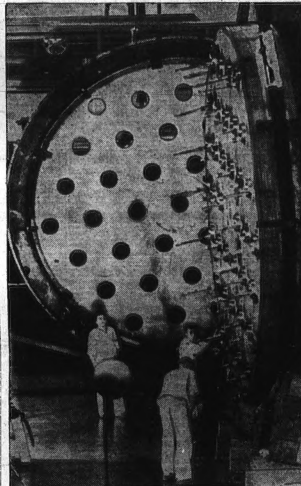

WEDDING CAKE—Replica of the towering wedding cake made for Queen Elizabeth by his father is admired by Jack Bryant of London, who worked on the wedding cake for Princess Elizabeth.

PUNTING ON THE THAMES—Punting on the Thames means more than a few idle hours spent in contented fashion for A. E. Squire of London. He is shown here with his steam-driven model of naval minesweeper towing punt and full complement of passengers. Model uses fuel oil.

HER BIRTHDAY CAKE HAS 109 CANDLES—Old-est resident of Nipissing district, Ont., Mrs. Isabella Sharow celebrated her 109th birthday recently with a cake aglow with candles. Her recipe for longevity is a mixture of hard work and a sense of humor. Her only regret is she is unable to continue the former, but the latter is still winning her new friends. She is shown here with her cake and a nurse at the hospital, where she is confined with a hip fracture.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST EYE—The world's greatest eye, the 200-inch mirror capable of peering into secrets of the solar system is pictured, being loaded into the cradle (right), which will then be loaded on to a truck for the slow and careful trip to Mount Palomar observatory, near San Diego, Calif. There it will be installed. After 11 years of work, interrupted only by the war, opticians finally finished polishing the world's largest mirror in the laboratories of Caltech.

PLAYING WITH GASOLINE, BOY DIES AS CLOTHES CATCH FIRE—Donald Downey, 11, of Drayton, Ont., died in Kitchener hospital from burns when a flaming can of gasoline, kicked by a playmate, set fire to his clothes. His cousins, Carl and Morris, examine can with Donald's brothers, Paul and Bob, left and right in group. Dead boy, shown in centre of group at right, was in path of can which veered off on angle.

HERO GETS MEDAL—"Lady", a small terrier whose barking aroused two families in San Antonio, Tex., enabling them to escape from a flaming building. On one side of the medal, awarded by the city's fire chief, is inscribed: "1947-To 'Lady', a dog, for saving the lives of several people." On the reverse: "Humanity—The American Human Assn. Award."

CHAMPION SCULLER—The common house fly has been going about his business of flying backwards, forwards, upside down and sideways for millions of years without anyone knowing just how he was able to do it. Now scientists at the American Museum of Natural History have, by means of a fast camera, photographed the fly in action, studied each minute movement of his wings as they beat the air 300 times a second, and know the answers — most of them anyway. Dr. C. H. Curran, museum insect expert, says the fly propels himself by a wing action similar to that of an car propelling a rowboat. One thing Dr. Curran is not sure of and that is how a fly does a loop and lands upside down on the ceiling.

DON'T GET SCARED! — No, no folks, that lady isn't dead. In fact she isn't a lady—just a dress shop window dummy who was dejected at her display of finery when an automobile plowed into a New York window, which was her home. A clean-up man, whose finer sensibilities demand that even a mannequin shouldn't run around naked wraps up the imitation lady before carting her out of sight. The driver of the car disappeared.

SLIP ON TIME SAVES THIRTEEN—Mrs. Theodore Sallows of Scarboro Junction, Ont., proved her resourcefulness recently. She was one of a party of 13 marooned in a launch that had run up on a rock far out from shore on Lake Nipissing. Mrs. Sallows first waved her white slip on the end of a pole. When that didn't attract attention she set a match to it and caused duck hunters in the area to come to the rescue. "Only four in the party could swim," she said, "and the boat would sway wildly, perched on top of a sharp point of rock just under the surface." Here Mrs. Sallows demonstrates the way a stranded "sailorette" should knot a slip to get the longest and best blaze.

PILOT OF SKY QUEEN—Captain Charles Martin, 33, a former U.S. navy pilot, is pictured at the controls of the Bermuda Sky Queen, the huge flying boat which was forced down in mid-Atlantic with 62 passengers and a crew of seven. He is shown as he lifted the plane from the waters of the Hudson river in New York city, on the air trip to England. After running low on gasoline and bucking heavy winds the plane was forced to land in the rough waters of the Atlantic. The U.S. coast guard cutter Bibb stood by to pick up all passengers and crew, some of whom spent a storm-tossed night, bobbing on the waves in the airliner. The Sky Queen was sunk by authorities as a menace to navigation.

WAR HERO HONORED—Croix de Guerre with silver star has been awarded by France to Pit-Lieut Douglas Sam of Victoria, pictured here with his wife. He is with the R.C.A.F. permanent force, Ottawa.

The Fourth Estate

One of our correspondents asks: "In printing journals we sometimes see reference to the 'Fourth Estate'. What does it mean?"

The "Fourth Estate" was a term applied by Edmund Burke to the "Press." In this way he paid tribute to the power of printing. The "First Estate" referred to the Lords, the "Second Estate" to the Clergy, the "Third" to the elected members of the British Parliament. The expression indicates the wide influence of journalism in domestic and world affairs.

Gordon Steeves is on a business trip to Calgary.

Alberta School children will receive a holiday on November 20, on the occasion of the Royal wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten.

Two car accidents this week might have been more serious. On Tuesday night, Pete Bodio has misfortune when his truck was struck by a train on the twelfth avenue crossing; while a couple of nights later a car with five occupants skidded off the icy surface of the road leading east of town and landed in the river. In both cases occupants were taken to the local hospital and had cuts attended to.

COUNCILLOR REES ELECTED TO EXECUTIVE

Councillor G. Rees and secretary-treasurer C. M. Larbaestier returned over the week end from Lethbridge where they attended sessions of the Union of Alberta Municipalities. Mayor A. A. Dunkley, of Olds, was elected president for the ensuing year, while Mr. Rees was placed on the executive.

Mr. Rees presented a report to the town council on Monday in part as follows:

As members of a Municipal body and interested in all phases of Municipal activity, I beg to submit my report of the Annual Convention of the Alberta Union of Municipalities, held at Lethbridge, October 30th and 31st, 1947.

Permit me to say it was one of the most interesting conventions I ever attended, and wish it had been possible for all members of the Blaimore Town Council to have attended.

However, most of the highlights of the Convention have been reported in the Press; therefore I will deal very briefly with the resolutions that were passed.

The Presidential address delivered by Alderman W. A. Shackelford of Lethbridge, pointed out the serious difficulties encountered by the Municipalities unless they receive substantial assistance from the Senior Governments in carrying out their burdens. He pointed out that Municipal Government was closest to the people, and when a depression era sets in, the one thing that shadowed everything else was Unemployment, and therefore the burden fell on Municipalities.

The Rowell-Sirois Report found out that after 1930 the Municipalities provided less than one-quarter of the total cost of this service, and even these Municipalities found it was beyond their capacity.

The Cardston resolution requested that the Union go on record as recommending to the Provincial Government pass Legislation to provide for a Provincial Inspector to check on and equalize values throughout any school Division whenever such review and equalization is requested by the Council of any Municipalities lying within of partly within a School Division.

Lethbridge introduced a resolution asking that the Federal Government remove the 8% tax on gas which was put on as a War Measure, believing that the need for it is past, and also suggested that the tax on electricity be included.

Resolution from Calgary requesting the Provincial Government to lower the voting age limit from 21 years to 19 years of age, was referred to Municipal bodies for further studies.

Another resolution from Calgary asking the Provincial Government to assume a greater proportion of indigent services was discussed. No vote was taken as this matter was incorporated in the brief to be submitted to the Royal Commission.

The foregoing were the highlights of the Convention, and should you desire to ask any questions, I will endeavour to the best of my ability to reply.
